volume 23 index

Volume 23 Index

Achieving Success as a Litigator: Is It Different for Women?, V. Hale Starr, No. 2, p. 104.

Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part I: The Current State of the Law, Lori G. Baer and J. Kennard Neal, No. 4, p. 323.

Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part II: A Practical Guide to the Daubert Challenge, Lori G. Baer and J. Kennard Neal, No. 5, p. 398.

Advocacy

Trial Advocacy from the Plaintiff and Defense Perspectives, V. Hale Starr, No. 3, p. 201.

Allocating Responsibility for Groundwater Remediation Costs, Barbara J. Graves, David Jordan, Dominique Cartron, Daniel B. Stephens, and Michael A. Francis, No. 2, p. 159.

Appealing Evidence, James Harris, No. 6, p. 449.

Atkinson, Linda Miller, The Juror Questionnaire: Interviewing Applicants for the Job of "Judge of the Facts," No. 4, p. 296.

Avoiding the Pitfalls when Handling Collateral Sources and Other Third-Party Payers, Stacey Mullins, No. 4, p. 285.

Baer, Lori G., and J. Kennard Neal, Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part I: The Current State of the Law, No. 4, p. 323.

Baer, Lori G., and J. Kennard Neal, Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part II: A Practical Guide to the Daubert Challenge, No. 5, p. 398.

Bamberger, David T., and Frank N. Darras, How to Pick an Insurance Bad Faith Case and Win It, No. 3, p. 216.

Bartimus, James, The Seven Most Common Mistakes by Expert Witnesses in Professional Negligence Cases, No. 6, p. 430.

Bartimus, James, and Anthony L. DeWitt, Defeating the Pulse Oximetry Causation Defense, No. 4, p. 317.

Brain-Damaged Newborns

The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part I: Fetal Distress, Stanley Tessel, No. 3, p. 226.

The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part II: VBAC and Forceps, Stanley Tessel, No. 4, p. 303.

The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part III: Vaginal Delivery of Breech Presentations, Stanley Tessel, No. 5, p. 386.

The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part IV: Dystocia, Stanley Tessel, No. 6, p. 471.

Brain Injuries

Winning for the Brain Injured, Michael Maggiano, No. 3, p. 247.

Brainstorming Your Way to a Winning Case Strategy, Greg Krehel, No. 1, p. 17.

Carmichael-Jones, Clive, Clifford May, and Anthony Dearsley, Computer Crime and Electronic Evidence, No. 3, p. 255.

Cartron, Dominique, Barbara J. Graves, David Jordan, Daniel B. Stephens, and Michael A. Francis, Allocating Responsibility for Groundwater Remediation Costs, No. 2, p. 159.

Casaubon, Denise, and Rose Sparks, Resources for Thorough Discovery in Health Care Cases, No. 6, p. 495.

Case Management

Avoiding the Pitfalls when Handling Collateral Sources and Other Third-Party Payers, Stacey Mullins, No. 4, p. 285.

Brainstorming Your Way to a Winning Case Strategy, Greg Krehel, No. 1, p. 17.

Ex Parte Communications: Guidelines to Consider, Stacey D. Mullins, No. 5, p. 364.

Focus Groups for Small Cases, Stacey D. Mullins, No. 6, p. 433.

Letters of Protection: Whom Do They Protect?, Stacey Mullins, No. 3, p. 212.

Ten Stairways to a Heavenly Jury Selection, Stacey Mullins, No. 2, p. 118.

Cohen, Larry J., Issues in the Treatment of Posttraumatic Stress Disorder, No. 1, p. 26.

Complex and Class-Action Litigation

Expert Witnesses in Complex and Class-Action Litigation: Less Is More, Joel S. Feldman, No. 3, p. 232.

Computer Crime

Computer Crime and Electronic Evidence, Clifford May, Clive Carmichael-Jones, and Anthony Dearsley, No. 3, p. 255.

Computer Data Discovery

Computer Crime and Electronic Evidence, Clifford May, Clive Carmichael-Jones, and Anthony Dearsley, No. 3, p. 255.

Data Mining: Discovery of Computer-Based Data in Commercial Litigation, Peter Schulman, No. 1, p. 46.

Corker, W. Russell, Understanding Spinal Injuries, No. 2, p. 182.

Criminal Defense

To Call or Not to Call the Criminal Defendant to Testify, V. Hale Starr, No. 4, p. 273.

Cusimano, Gregory S., The Uncross Cross, No. 1, p. 15.

Darras, Frank N., and David T. Bamberger, How to Pick an Insurance Bad Faith Case and Win It, No. 3, p. 216.

Daubert* Decision

Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part I: The

volume 23 index

Current State of the Law, Lori G. Baer and J. Kennard Neal, No. 4, p. 323.

Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part II: A Practical Guide to the Daubert Challenge, Lori G. Baer and J. Kennard Neal, No. 5, p. 398.

The Gatekeepers: Scientific Expert Testimony in the Trial Process, David L. Faigman, No. 4, p. 335.

Dearsley, Anthony, Clifford May, and Clive Carmichael-Jones, Computer Crime and Electronic Evidence, No. 3, p. 255.

Defeating the Pulse Oximetry Causation Defense, Anthony L. DeWitt and James Bartimus, No. 4, p. 317.

Depositions

Depositions: The Early Bird Gets the Worm, Eliot G. Disner, No. 5, p. 380.

Yes, Maestro! You Can Indeed Depose a Witness More than Once, John F. Romano, No. 3, p. 199.

Depositions in Japan

Taking Depositions in Japan (or, My Recent Adventures in Tokyo), Eliot G. Disner, No 2, p. 172.

DeWitt, Anthony L., and James Bartimus, Defeating the Pulse Oximetry Causation Defense, No. 4, p. 317.

Differences in Jurors' Perception of Self and Others: Why So Many Plaintiffs Get the Benefit of the Doubt, Mark S. Sobus, No. 1, p. 42.

Discovery

Computer Crime and Electronic Evidence, Clifford May, Clive Carmichael-Jones, and Anthony Dearsley, No. 3, p. 255.

Data Mining: Discovery of Computer-Based Data in Commercial Litigation, Peter Schulman, No. 1, p. 46.

Resources for Thorough Discovery in Health Care Cases, Denise Casaubon and Rose Sparks, No. 6, p. 495.

Disner, Eliot G., Depositions: The Early Bird Gets the Worm, No. 5, p. 380.

Disner, Eliot G., Taking Depositions in Japan (or, My Recent Adventures in Tokyo), No. 2, p. 172.

Elderly Plaintiffs

The Underestimated Plaintiffs: Proof and Argument of Damages in Cases Involving the Elderly, Tom Vesper, No. 6, p. 488.

Electronic Evidence

Computer Crime and Electronic Evidence, Clifford May, Clive Carmichael-Jones, and Anthony Dearsley, No. 3, p. 255.

Environmental Justice

Theories of Recovery in Toxic Tort Litigation, Allan Kanner, No. 2, p. 130.

Environmental Litigation

Use of Geographic Information Systems in Support of Environmental Litigation, David L. Jordan and Barbara J. Graves, No. 5, p. 406.

Evidence

Appealing Evidence, James Harris, No. 6, p. 449.

Spoliation of Evidence in Product Liability Litigation, Joseph J. Ortego and Glen M. Vogel, No. 6, p. 437.

Using Negative Evidence as a Positive Approach to Winning Your Case, John F. Romano, No. 6, p. 421.

Ex Parte Communications

Ex Parte Communications: Guidelines to Consider, Stacey D. Mullins, No. 5, p. 364.

Expert Witnesses

Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part I: The Current State of the Law, Lori G. Baer and J. Kennard Neal, No. 4, p. 323.

Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part II: A Practical Guide to the Daubert Challenge, Lori G. Baer and J. Kennard Neal, No. 5, p. 398.

Expert Witnesses in Complex and Class-Action Litigation: Less Is More, Joel S. Feldman, No. 3, p. 232.

The Gatekeepers: Scientific Expert Testimony in the Trial Process, David L. Faigman, No. 4, p. 335.

Kumho Wrestling: Are Your Intellectual Property Experts in Shape?, Alan Ratliff, No. 6, p. 457.

The Seven Most Common Mistakes by Expert Witnesses in Professional Negligence Cases, James Bartimus, No. 6, p. 430.

Faigman, David L., The Gatekeepers: Scientific Expert Testimony in the Trial Process, No. 4, p. 335.

Feldman, Joel S., Expert Witnesses in Complex and Class-Action Litigation: Less Is More, No. 3, p. 232.

Female Trial Lawyers

Achieving Success as a Litigator: Is It Different for Women?, V. Hale Starr, No. 2, p. 104.

Focus Groups

Gorny, Stephen M., Getting into Focus: Improving Trial Technique Through Focus Groups, No. 2, p. 111.

Focus Groups for Small Cases, Stacey D. Mullins, No. 6, p. 433.

Foley, Linda A., and Melissa A. Pigott, The Role of Gender in Sexual Harassment Litigation, No. 1, p. 49.

volume 23 index

Francis, Michael A., Barbara J. Graves, David Jordan, Dominique Cartron, and Daniel B. Stephens, Allocating Responsibility for Groundwater Remediation Costs, No. 2, p. 159.

Getting into Focus: Improving Trial Technique Through Focus Groups, Stephen M. Gorny, No. 2, p. 111.

Goldsmith, Lee S., New Health Care Liabilities in the New Millennium, No. 1, p. 21.

Gordon, Alan, Robert Gordon, and Richard Waites, Online Trial Science Research: Harvesting Intelligence About Jurors over the Internet, No. 4, p. 288.

Gordon, Robert, Alan Gordon, and Richard Waites, Online Trial Science Research: Harvesting Intelligence About Jurors over the Internet, No. 4, p. 288.

Gorny, Stephen M., Getting into Focus: Improving Trial Tech-nique Through Focus Groups, No. 2, p. 111.

Graves, Barbara J., David Jordan, Dominique Cartron, Daniel B. Stephens, and Michael A. Francis, Allocating Responsibility for Groundwater Remediation Costs, No. 2, p. 159.

Graves, Barbara J., and David L. Jordan, Use of Geographic Information Systems in Support of Environmental Litigation, No. 5, p. 406.

Groundwater Remediation Cost Allocation

Allocating Responsibility for Groundwater Remediation Costs, Barbara J. Graves, David Jordan, Dominique Cartron, Daniel B. Stephens, and Michael A. Francis, No. 2, p. 159.

Harris, James, Appealing Evidence, No. 6, p. 449.

Hely, Jim, Using History to Engage Today's Jurors, No. 5, p. 361.

How to Pick an Insurance Bad Faith Case and Win It, Frank N. Darras and David T. Bamberger, No. 3, p. 216.

Intellectual Property Litigation

Kumho Wrestling: Are Your Intellectual Property Experts in Shape?, Alan Ratliff, No. 6, p. 457.

Insurance Bad Faith Cases

Death on a Common Carrier: Getting the Recovery Your Client Deserves, Alvin A. Wolff, Jr., No. 3, p. 210.

How to Pick an Insurance Bad Faith Case and Win It, Frank N. Darras and David T. Bamberger, No. 3, p. 216.

Internet Research

Medical-Legal Internet Research: Finding Reliable Information, Alan T. Radnor and Sebastian E. Proels, No. 2, p. 122.

Online Trial Science Research: Harvesting Intelligence About Jurors over the Internet, Robert Gordon, Alan Gordon, and Richard Waites, No. 4, p. 288.

Issues in the Treatment of Posttraumatic Stress Disorder, Larry J. Cohen, No. 1, p. 26.

Jordan, David, Barbara J. Graves, Dominique Cartron, Daniel B. Stephens, and Michael A. Francis, Allocating Responsibility for Groundwater Remediation Costs, No. 2, p. 159.

Jordan, David L., and Barbara J. Graves, Use of Geographic Information Systems in Support of Environmental Litigation, No. 5, p. 406.

Juror Questionnaires

The Juror Questionnaire: Interviewing Applicants for the Job of "Judge of the Facts," Linda Miller Atkinson, No. 4, p. 296.

Supplemental Juror Questionnaires: Advantage in Voir Dire?, V. Hale Starr, No. 5, p. 353.

Jury Psychology

Differences in Jurors' Perception of Self and Others: Why So Many Plaintiffs Get the Benefit of the Doubt, Mark S. Sobus, No. 1, p. 42.

Motivating the Modern Juror, Michael Maggiano, No. 4, p. 279.

Using History to Engage Today's Jurors, Jim Hely, No. 5, p. 361.

Jury Selection

The Juror Questionnaire: Interviewing Applicants for the Job of "Judge of the Facts," Linda Miller Atkinson, No. 4, p. 296.

Supplemental Juror Questionnaires: Advantage in Voir Dire?, V. Hale Starr, No. 5, p. 353.

Ten Stairways to a Heavenly Jury Selection, Stacey Mullins, No. 2, p. 118.

Kanner, Allan, Theories of Recovery in Toxic Tort Litigation, No. 2, p. 130.

Krehel, Greg, Brainstorming Your Way to a Winning Case Strategy, No. 1, p. 17.

Kumho Wrestling: Are Your Intellectual Property Experts in Shape?, Alan Ratliff, No. 6, p. 457.

Let's See: Using Visuals in Legal Communications, Eric Oliver, No. 5, p. 367.

Letters of Protection

Letters of Protection: Whom Do They Protect?, Stacey Mullins, No. 3, p. 212.

Maggiano, Michael, Motivating the Modern Juror, No. 4, p. 279.

Maggiano, Michael, Winning for the Brain Injured, No. 3, p. 247.

May, Clifford, Clive Carmichael-Jones, and Anthony Dearsley, Computer Crime and Electronic Evidence, No. 3, p. 255.

volume 23 index

Medical-Legal Internet Research: Finding Reliable Information, Alan T. Radnor and Sebastian E. Proels, No. 2, p. 122.

Medical-Legal Research
Medical-Legal Internet Research: Finding Reliable Information, Alan T. Radnor and Sebastian E. Proels, No. 2, p. 122.

Resources for Thorough Discovery in Health Care Cases, Denise Casaubon and Rose Sparks, No. 6, p. 495.

Medical Malpractice Litigation
New Health Care Liabilities in the New Millennium, Lee S. Goldsmith, No. 1, p. 21.

Preparing the Physician Defendant in a Medical Malpractice Case, V. Hale Starr, No. 1, p. 6.

Mullins, Stacey D., Avoiding the Pitfalls when Handling Collateral Sources and Other Third-Party Payers, No. 4, p. 285.

Mullins, Stacey D., Ex Parte Communications: Guidelines to Consider, No. 5, p. 364.

Mullins, Stacey D., Focus Groups for Small Cases, No. 6, p. 433.

Mullins, Stacey D., Letters of Protection: Whom Do They Protect?, No. 3, p. 212.

Mullins, Stacey D., Ten Stairways to a Heavenly Jury Selection, No. 2, p. 118.

Neal, J. Kennard, and Lori G. Baer, Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part I: The Current State of the Law, No. 4, p. 323.

Neal, J. Kennard, and Lori G. Baer, Admissibility of Medical Causation Expert Opinions in Federal Courts, Part II: A Practical Guide to the Daubert Challenge, No. 5, p. 398.

Negative Evidence
Using Negative Evidence as a Positive Approach to Winning Your Case, John F. Romano, No. 6, p. 421.

New Health Care Liabilities in the New Millennium, Lee S. Goldsmith, No. 1, p. 21.

Oliver, Eric, Let's See: Using Visuals in Legal Communications, No. 5, p. 367.

Online Trial Science Research
Online Trial Science Research: Harvesting Intelligence About Jurors over the Internet, Robert Gordon, Alan Gordon, and Richard Waites, No. 4, p. 288.

Ortego, Joseph J., and Glen M. Vogel, Spoliation of Evidence in Product Liability Litigation, No. 6, p. 437.

Pigott, Melissa A., and Linda A. Foley, The Role of Gender in Sexual Harassment Litigation, No. 1, p. 49.

Posttraumatic Stress Disorder
Issues in the Treatment of Posttraumatic Stress Disorder, Larry J. Cohen, No. 1, p. 26.

Predicting Your Opponent's Strategy—The "OSPA" Model, John F. Romano, No. 2, p. 101.

Preparing the Physician Defendant in a Medical Malpractice Case, V. Hale Starr, No. 1, p. 6.

Product Liability Litigation
Spoliation of Evidence in Product Liability Litigation, Joseph J. Ortego and Glen M. Vogel, No. 6, p. 437.

Proels, Sebastian E., and Alan T. Radnor, Medical-Legal Internet Research: Finding Reliable Information, No. 2, p. 122.

Pulse Oximetry Causation Defense
Defeating the Pulse Oximetry Causation Defense, Anthony L. DeWitt and James Bartimus, No. 4, p. 317.

Radnor, Alan T., and Sebastian E. Proels, Medical-Legal Internet Research: Finding Reliable Information, No. 2, p. 122.

Ratliff, Alan, Kumho Wrestling: Are Your Intellectual Property Experts in Shape?, No. 6, p. 457.

Resources for Thorough Discovery in Health Care Cases, Denise Casaubon and Rose Sparks, No. 6, p. 495.

The Role of Gender in Sexual Harassment Litigation, Melissa A. Pigott and Linda A. Foley, No. 1, p. 49.

Romano, John F., Predicting Your Opponent's Strategy—The "OSPA" Model, No. 2, p. 101.

Romano, John F., 10 Highly Significant Sports Stories of the Century—and What Trial Advocates Can Learn from Them, No. 1, p. 1.

Romano, John F., Using Negative Evidence as a Positive Approach to Winning Your Case, No. 6, p. 421.

Romano, John F., Yes, Maestro! You Can Indeed Depose a Witness More than Once, No. 3, p. 199.

Settlement Agreements
Why You Should Address Tax Issues in Settlement Agreements, Robert W. Wood, No. 3, p. 238.

Sexual Harassment Litigation
The Role of Gender in Sexual Harassment Litigation, Melissa A. Pigott and Linda A. Foley, No. 1, p. 49.

Schulman, Peter, Data Mining: Discovery of Computer-Based Data in Commercial Litigation, No. 1, p. 46.

Sobus, Mark S., Differences in Jurors' Perception of Self and Others: Why So Many Plaintiffs Get the Benefit of the Doubt, No. 1, p. 42.

Sparks, Rose, and Denise Casaubon, Resources for Thorough Discovery in Health Care Cases, No. 6, p. 495.

Spinal Injuries
Understanding Spinal Injuries, W. Russell Corker, No. 2, p. 182.

volume 23 index

Spoliation of Evidence

Spoliation of Evidence in Product Liability Litigation, Joseph J. Ortego and Glen M. Vogel, No. 6, p. 437.

Starr, V. Hale, Achieving Success as a Litigator: Is It Different for Women?, No. 2, p. 104.

Starr, V. Hale, Preparing the Physician Defendant in a Medical Malpractice Case, No. 1, p. 6.

Starr, V. Hale, "Stealing Thunder": When It Works and When It Doesn't, No. 6, p. 425.

Starr, V. Hale, Supplemental Juror Questionnaires: Advantage in Voir Dire?, No. 5, p. 353.

Starr, V. Hale, To Call or Not to Call the Criminal Defendant to Testify, No. 4, p. 273.

Starr, V. Hale, Trial Advocacy from the Plaintiff and Defense Perspectives, No. 3, p. 201.

"Stealing Thunder": When It Works and When It Doesn't, V. Hale Starr, No. 6, p. 425.

Stephens, Daniel B., Barbara J. Graves, David Jordan, Dominique Cartron, and Michael A. Francis, Allocating Responsibility for Groundwater Remediation Costs, No. 2, p. 159.

Supplemental Juror Questionnaires: Advantage in Voir Dire?, V. Hale Starr, No. 5, p. 353.

Taking Depositions in Japan (or, My Recent Adventures in Tokyo), Eliot G. Disner, No. 2, p. 172.

Tax Issues

Why You Should Address Tax Issues in Settlement Agreements, Robert W. Wood, No. 3, p. 238.

10 Highly Significant Sports Stories of the Century—and What Trial Advocates Can Learn from Them, John F. Romano, No. 1, p. 1.

Ten Stairways to a Heavenly Jury Selection, Stacey Mullins, No. 2, p. 118.

Tessel, Stanley, The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part I: Fetal Distress, No. 3, p. 226.

Tessel, Stanley, The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part II: VBAC and Forceps, No. 4, p. 303.

Tessel, Stanley, The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part III: Vaginal Delivery of Breech Presentations, No. 5, p. 386.

Tessel, Stanley, The Brain-Damaged Newborn, Part IV: Dystocia, No. 6, p. 471.

Theories of Recovery in Toxic Tort Litigation, Allan Kanner, No. 2, p. 130.

Third-Party Payers

Avoiding the Pitfalls when Handling Collateral Sources and Other Third-Party Payers, Stacey Mullins, No. 4, p. 285.

To Call or Not to Call the Criminal Defendant to Testify, V. Hale Starr, No. 4, p. 273.

Toxic Tort Litigation

Theories of Recovery in Toxic Tort Litigation, Allan Kanner, No. 2, p. 130.

Trial Advocacy from the Plaintiff and Defense Perspectives, V. Hale Starr, No. 3, p. 201.

Trial Exhibits

Let's See: Using Visuals in Legal Communications, Eric Oliver, No. 5, p. 367.

Trial Strategy

Achieving Success as a Litigator: Is It Different for Women?, V. Hale Starr, No. 2, p. 104.

Predicting Your Opponent's Strategy—The "OSPA" Model, John F. Romano, No. 2, p. 101.

Preparing the Physician Defendant in a Medical Malpractice Case, V. Hale Starr, No. 1, p. 6.

"Stealing Thunder": When It Works and When It Doesn't, V. Hale Starr, No. 6, p. 425.

Supplemental Juror Questionnaires: Advantage in Voir Dire?, V. Hale Starr, No. 5, p. 353.

To Call or Not to Call the Criminal Defendant to Testify, V. Hale Starr, No. 4, p. 273.

Trial Advocacy from the Plaintiff and Defense Perspectives, V. Hale Starr, No. 3, p. 201.

Trial Technique

Death on a Common Carrier: Getting the Recovery Your Client Deserves, Alvin A. Wolff, Jr., No. 3, p. 210.

Getting into Focus: Improving Trial Technique Through Focus Groups, Stephen M. Gorny, No. 2, p. 111.

Motivating the Modern Juror, Michael Maggiano, No. 4, p. 279.

The Seven Most Common Mistakes by Expert Witnesses in Professional Negligence Cases, James Bartimus, No. 6, p. 430.

The Uncross Cross, Gregory S. Cusimano, No. 1, p. 15.

Using History to Engage Today's Jurors, Jim Hely, No. 5, p. 361.

The Uncross Cross, Gregory S. Cusimano, No. 1, p. 15.

The Underestimated Plaintiffs: Proof and Argument of Damages in Cases Involving the Elderly, Tom Vesper, No. 6, p. 488.

Understanding Spinal Injuries, W. Russell Corker, No. 2, p. 182.

Use of Geographic Information Systems in Support of Environmental Litigation, David L. Jordan and Barbara J. Graves, No. 5, p. 406.

volume 23 index

Using History to Engage Today's Jurors, Jim Hely, No. 5, p. 361.

Using Negative Evidence as a Positive Approach to Winning Your Case, John F. Romano, No. 6, p. 421.

Vesper, Tom, The Underestimated Plaintiffs: Proof and Argument of Damages in Cases Involving the Elderly, No. 6, p. 488.

Vogel, Glen M., and Joseph J. Ortego, Spoliation of Evidence in Product Liability Litigation, No. 6, p. 437.

Waites, Richard, Robert Gordon, and Alan Gordon, Online Trial Science Research: Harvesting Intelligence About Jurors over the Internet, No. 4, p. 288.

Why You Should Address Tax Issues in Settlement Agreements, Robert W. Wood, No. 3, p. 238.

Winning for the Brain Injured, Michael Maggiano, No. 3, p. 247.

Wolff, Alvin A. Jr., Death on a Common Carrier: Getting the Recovery Your Client Deserves, No. 3, p. 210.

Wood, Robert W., Why You Should Address Tax Issues in Settlement Agreements, No. 3, p. 238.

Yes, Maestro! You Can Indeed Depose a Witness More than Once, John F. Romano, No. 3, p. 199.